

"Jobs has a sense of urgency," Gladwell said. "He wants to do it now. He speeds to Cupertino and says, drop everything, we're doing this at this very moment."

Meanwhile people at Xerox, with their unlimited time and money, think that genius can't be rushed. Jobs is rushed - he's urgent - and that was a part of his genius.

"The difference isn't resources," Gladwell said. "It's attitude."" <http://buff.ly/1svwLFL>

Forward is the only way to go, isn't it? You are the Master of your Destiny, Yoga Vashista said that to Lord Rama. And that's also the case with you. Glory is your birthright, go grab it. Be inspired by the genius within you. Have fun along the way!

focus

distraction, concentration, information, inquiry

Focus is the one word that Bill Gates and Warren Buffet coincided as required for success. Gain information through proper inquiry.

Flow requires commitment to Habits (regular rhythm), creativity, innovation and the willingness to fail fast, so you may succeed faster.

Have faith in yourself, so you will persevere even in the face of setbacks. Help others, connect with others, bring a lot of passion to whatever you do, and that makes you a leader.

Leaders are in demand, at all levels of society. Lead yourself first, and help lead others!

"Jobs has a sense of urgency," Gladwell said. "He wants to do it now. He speeds to Cupertino and says, drop everything, we're doing this at this very moment."

Meanwhile people at Xerox, with their unlimited time and money, think that genius can't be rushed. Jobs is rushed - he's urgent - and that was a part of his genius.

"The difference isn't resources," Gladwell said. "It's attitude."" <http://buff.ly/1svwLFL>